

Document version information

Valid from: 9 October 2014

Modified: 2014. October 9.

V1.2

Online version: <http://www.irodacenter.com/download/gt.pdf>

Details of the Service Provider

Name: CGSI LTD.

Head office: H-1023 Budapest, Bécsi way 3-5. floor IV / 38.

Company Registration Number: 01-09-724599

Website: www.irodacenter.com

TAX Number: 14305360-2-41

Email: info@irodacenter.com

EU VAT Number: HU14305360

Phone: +36 1 388 4181

Fax: +36 1 388 4182

BY USING IRODACENTER.COM HOMEPAGE YOU ACCEPT THESE TERMS AND CONDITIONS.

Please, read our conditions carefully, because by visiting and using our website you accept all terms and conditions of use written underneath, which are governed exclusively by the laws of Hungary and are used exclusively under the jurisdiction of Hungary.

In case our conditions are not acceptable for you for any reason, be so kind and tell us the disapproved condition so we can reconsider its significance and clear such reasons. Please use our services only in case you fully accept these conditions.

The plural first form used on our website and in present conditions, the words „us”, „our”, and „CGSI” cover the CGSI Kft. The word „homepage”, covers irodacenter.com website. The word „User” covers the person who has access and / or currently using the website.

1. Services to order on the website

The general terms and conditions describe the services to order on our website in details.

<http://www.irodacenter.com/download/gcs.pdf>

2. Data privacy

The conditions described in the Data privacy guidelines cover the rules of all personal and other data given on our website.

<http://www.irodacenter.com/download/pp.pdf>

3. Accuracy, integrity and completeness of the data

Yet we make our best effort to provide accurate and complete data on our website, yet we exclude all liability for any legal consequences and damages arising from the possible inaccuracy or deficiencies. The User can trust the information on our website exclusively on his own responsibility, the Provider excludes all liability in this matter. The Users accept that tracking all the changes of data and information on our website is also our Users' own responsibility.

4. Intellectual property rights

The oblige of all intellectual and trademark rights related to the texts, pictures and other intellectual property rights on this website is CGSI and such information is shown on the website with the competent obliges' permission.

The User is entitled to browse on the website and to multiple the extracts by printing or saving them on hard disc for private use or for forwarding them to third parties. To practice such right is that the User shall leave the copyright and other legal statements intact and shall indicate all trademark information and leave them visible on the copies. No copied part of the website is to be used for making any profit or is to be sold, may not be modified or to be used on other websites, press or any other work.

The oblige of all rights related to trademarks, logos, characters and service trademarks, and to all the works protected by copyrights and to all intellectual work published on this website (together called 'Trademarks') is CGSI.

5. Links to other websites

Following the links on our website you may leave our homepage and you get access to contents outside of this website. CGSI has no responsibility for the content, operation and accuracy of websites made by any third parties. We provide all links to our Users in good faith. Furthermore, CGSI shall not be liable for websites and their content accessible via the links on our website and created by any third parties. We highly encourage the User to study and read the terms and conditions of use and privacy notice of the visited websites.

6. Warranty and limitation of liability

Users acknowledge and accept that this website is used on their own and exclusive responsibility.

A. WARRANTY

CGSI provides present website as it is and as it is available, therefore CGSI shall take no warranty – should it be explicit, implicit or based on law or other (e.g. concerning the appropriate quality or appropriateness for a given purpose, transferability), – for the completeness, accuracy, up to date, legitimacy of the available material on the website, reliability, for the freedom of errors and for the blocking-free access of the website, for the virus free website, for the accuracy and reliability of the comments and notes shown on the website. CGSI specifically refuses all warranty and statements in this matter.

We set a condition precedent to restrict, suspend or block the access to part of this website or to the whole website as well as any function of the website without any advance notice.

B. LIABILITY

CGSI and/or any third parties on behalf of CGSI taking part in the design, creation or the access of the website are not liable for any damages, expenses, loss or commitment arising from the access to this website or access to any other website linked on our website and from their use, inability to use, change of content or – to the extent permitted by law - any direct, indirect, additional, consequential, extraordinary or sanctional damages, expenses, losses or commitments arising from any executed or unexecuted activity from us according to any email message from the User.

CGSI and/or third parties taking part in the creation, design or giving access to the website on behalf of CGSI are not obliged to maintain the services and materials available on the website, neither to refresh or update those. The content of the website may change without any advance notice.

CGSI undertakes no liability for the use of the website, the access to the website or for any possible loss and damages on the Users' computer or on any other property arising from viruses while downloading any material from the website. Users download all materials on their own responsibility from this website.

The User fully disclaims all rights according to the applicable law to claim anything from CGSI, its managers, officers, employees, suppliers and programmers arising from the use or access of this website.

7. Forbidden activity

Users are not allowed to carry out any activity that is considered inappropriate by CGSI's own discretion and/or unlawful or forbidden by any laws regarding websites, in particular as follows:

- Any activity infringing private individuals' or other persons' rights (e.g. uploading private data without the concerned person's confirmation)

- Any activity and behavior that conflicts the public moral and common politeness
 - It is strictly forbidden to publish any pornographic, racist, obscene, abusive, imminent, environmentally distractive or any other unlawful material
 - Any activity infringing any laws, ethic rules or good reputation
-

8. Applicable law and jurisdiction

CGSI does not make any statement about the fact that the information and materials on this website are accessible and proper with respect to all countries and all languages. By visiting this website Users accept that the applicable law regarding or arising from the use of this website is the law of Hungary. The Hungarian courts have exclusive jurisdiction on the possible legal disputes and claims.

9. Updating present terms and conditions

We reserve all rights to modify and complete present text. To read these regulations and any new information please visit our website frequently.

©2014 CGSI LTD. – Irodacenter.com